RECOMMENDATION: EDUPLAY EDUCATIONAL SOFTWARE

As a parent, teacher, remedial therapist and educational psychologist I did intensive research regarding educational software for learners during the last 25 years. I also invested thousands of rands during this period in search for the best value for money educational software programmes.

After comparing all the pros and cons of most of the reading and mathematics software programmes in the market, I can truly recommend the Eduplay educational software range. Programmes that can compete with Eduplay cost more than 10 times as much as the Eduplay range.

In my educational psychology practice as well as in my reading and mathematics centre, I still use Eduplay products as my first line of recommendation for parents and schools. Eduplay proved successful in focussing on the child's remedial and enrichment needs.

The Eduplay software range is a great empowering tool for parents. Parents feel more confident to help their children to overcome learning challenges. Reading, comprehension, mathematics, concentration, memorization and perception is some of the learning skills that Eduplay address.
